LOS ALAMOS ARTS COUNCIL NEWS – November 2017

Brown Bag Performance November 1, 2017

Los Alamos Arts Council continues its popular concert series, Wednesday November 1st at Fuller Lodge, with the esteemed ensemble, The Los Alamos Piano Quartet. With members Brian Newnam, Cindy Little, Ari Le, and Shanalyn Kemme, the Los Alamos Piano Quartet will delight you with the intensely emotional, yet uplifting music of Brahms and Turina. These two piano quartets are staples of the repertory and have been enjoyed by audiences worldwide for almost two centuries!

The audience is encouraged to bring their lunch-to-munch and there is no admission charge. All ages are encouraged to attend.

The Los Alamos Piano Quartet is an expanded version of the Trio de Los Alamos that began presenting chamber music concerts in Los Alamos and Santa Fe in 2003. The original trio included violinist Brian Newnam, cellist Suzie Barrett, and pianist Cindy Little. When Barrett moved to Virginia in 2007, Shanalyn Kemme was invited to join the group and has performed as the trio's cellist for the past ten years. In the last year violinist and violist, Ari Le, a recent arrival to Northern New Mexico, has joined Little, Newnam, and Kemme to perform the abundant musical literature for piano quartet. For today's concert, Drs. Le and Newnam alternate performing as violinist and violist.

Holiday Arts and Crafts Fair, November 18, 2017

Los Alamos Arts Council brings you its annual Holiday Fair on November 18, from 9:00am to 3:30pm at the Los Alamos Middle School. In addition to well respected and celebrated artists from around the Southwest displaying their wares, there will also be holiday music, food and drink.
